

Awareness Programme
On
Corona Virus (COVID-19)
At
The Adopted Village

Initiated by
MarangiMahabidyalaya (Degree)
P. O. -Lettekujan
Dist: Golaghat, Assam

Introduction:

On 28th March 2020, an awareness Programme on corona virus (COVID-19) has been done by the teaching and non-staff of the college at the nearby adopted village Phulanibari Gaon. The staff have been divided into many groups consisting of 2 or 3 members and made door to door visit to inform the households how to save themselves from the attack of worldwide pandemic COVID -19.

Objectives :

1. To aware the village people about COVID-19.
2. To inform them how to save themselves from the attack of COVID-19.

Explanation:

The groups have distributed posters on awareness against, COVID-19 and asked them to use mask, handwash, sanitizer, boiled water, to keep social distance and avoid gather. They have told the villagers that these will help them in keeping themselves from the attack of the virus.

During that particular day, each group has distributed awareness posters to the households and explained everything briefly to them.

A group of workers have been working in that village so they have been taught all the ways to fight against COVID-19.

The outcomes of the programme are-

1. The village people have felt that this programme will be helpful for them to secure themselves from the attack of the COVID-19.

2. They have agreed to stop the coming of guest or strangers to the village.

3. The workers have told that they will work only in secure and satisfactory situation, otherwise they will avoid work.

Conclusion:

The programme has taken more than four hours of the day. The news reporter has reached the village and they have thanked the College for arranging such awareness programme during that crucial time. The village people have shown their gratefulness to the college for their helps and the programme which have been done in their village.

A Report
On
Blood Donation Camp and Awareness Programme

Organised by
Red Ribbon Club and NSS Unit
Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree)
In Collaboration with
Swahid Kushal Konwar Civil Hospital, Golaghat.
Venue: Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree)
Date: 23rd December 2021

Introduction:

Donate blood Save life is the motto of this Programme. To aware the people of the neighbouring area of the college and the students a blood donation camp is held at the college campus. The Blood Donation Camp as well as awareness programme was organised by Red Ribbon Club and NSS Unit at Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) on 23rd December 2021. A medical team from Swahid Kushal Konwar Civil Hospital, Golaghat was invited for the programme.

Objectives:

The main of objectives of the programme are

1. To aware the people about Blood Donation.
2. To collect blood from the people and the students.

Explanation:

First in the college auditorium the awareness programme has been held. The programme has been started at 10.a.m. and ended within an hour. In the programme the medical team was felicitated by the In-Charge of the Red Ribbon Club and Programme Officer NSS Unit of the College. Dr.RupomDuwara, in- charge of Blood Bank of Swahid Kushal Konwar Civil Hospital, Golaghat delivered a speech on the importance of donation of blood and its effects on human beings and participants from two nearby villages named Phuloni Gaon, the adopted village of the college and another nearby village Sumoni Gaon. He speaks out the logo of blood donation as Donate Blood Save life! He also explained that by donating blood one can save one's life. Another followed by a lady Blood Bank counselor named Mrs. Biju Bora has delivered valuable speech on the blood donation and its significance by the voices: "Rokto Daan Mohaan Kaam".

Findings:

The donation camp has been started at 11.a.m till 4.pm. The medical team with their instruments started checking the blood pressure and weight of each donor. After that they have started taking the samples from Teachers, students and participants from villagers for 1 (one) unit blood for each person.

Total 30 blood units were collected. Lastly a certificate and I-card were distributed to the donors from the Blood Bank Official for future use.

Conclusion:

After taking out the sample the medical team offered water, then a plate was arranged with some items like Rasgulla, an orange, cake, and an egg and also to take adequate rest to the donors for recovery. A tea treat was arranged from NSS Unit and RRC for the medical team and donors. A lunch was also arranged in the college canteen by the NSS Unit for the Medical Team and in-charges of RRC and NSS Unit. After that a short meeting was held for the ending session of the programme.

The Programme Officer of NSS Unit gave thankful note to the medical team for making the programme successful. And from the medical team also thanked the college authority as well as NSS Unit and RRC for organizing such an awareness programme and Blood Donation Camp.

At the last they expressed their good feeling and togetherness of bonding with our college in the near future. Then our RRC in-charge gave vote of thanks and the meeting ended.

Cleanliness Programme

Date: 26th February 2020

Organised by

NSS Unit

In Association with

Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAC.

Marangimahabidyalaya (Degree)

Venue: Phulani Bari Gaon (Adopted Village)

P.O. Lettekujan,

Dist: Golaghat, Assam

Introduction:

On the basis of the staff meeting held at Marangi Mahavidyalaya (Degree) it is decided to organise a cleanliness programme at our adopted village “Phulonibari Gaon”. The programme is solely organised by NSS Unit Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) in association with Research, Innovations and Extension cell, IQAC on 26th February 2020. On that particular day total participants 46 (students and teachers) have reached the village with the following three objectives.

Objective:

The main objectives of the programme are-

1. To create awareness among the village people regarding cleanliness and its benefits.
2. To involve the students in such activities for creating a clean environment.
3. To eliminate open defecation and improve solid waste management.

Explanation:

After reaching the village, the college team have discussed the matter with the village people and aware them about the programme and started the work from the entrance of the village. The students have carried brooms, baskets, dustbins, hoe, dao etc to clean the roadsides of the village.

The participants have done their duty with joy and delight. They have cleaned the campus of Phulanibari LP School which is situated at the village. They have taught the students to throw the wastage in proper places and to use the water in proper ways and not destroy water and plants and to plant sapling in the school campus.

The participants of the programme have also cleaned the campus of the Village Namghor and asked the village people to use dustbin beside the Namghor.

The participants have cleaned the village road to the last point, they have also cleaned the drains beside the village road and asked the village people to keep the drains clean and told them how the dirty drains help in spreading various diseases. They have cleaned the sides of the public pond.

During the programme the participants have been given packet lunch by the village

Outcomes

1. This programme improves the habit of cleanliness among the villagers because they agree to keep the village clean.
2. The students have learned the theme of the programme and they told that they will teach their neighbours about cleanliness.
3. The villagers have learnt more about sanitation, cleanliness and healthy environment.
4. The villagers have also learned to open defecation and agree to improve solid waste management.

Conclusion:

The cleanliness programme helps both the team and the village which have helped them in learning to be cleaned in day to day life. The participants have felt much happy by involving themselves in such type of work. They have told that team work never make them tire. During the afternoon at about 3pm the programme has been ended. The team has returned the college with a happy and delight mood.

REPORT

One Day Workshop
On

Creative Activities

Date: 24th December, 2021

Organised by,
Department of Economics
Marangi Mahabidyalaya

In association with
Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAC
Marangi Mahabidyalaya.

Venue: Phulani Gaon Namghor
Time: 10:30 AM to 3:00PM

Introduction:

Creative Activities refers to the act of creating something by thinking, art, artistic creation or production, the creation of beautiful or significant things. It is the act of creating something by removing something.

Creative activities by the students are possible when they are able to use imagination and critical thinking to create new and meaningful forms of ideas, where they can take risk, be independent and flexible. Instead of being taught to reiterate what was ability to find various solutions to a problem. The female students of the department of Economics are not exceptional. They are expert in making various decorative items using waste materials and other useful materials.

The students have shown various decorative items made by themselves to the teachers of the department. The teachers of the department have felt proud of their students and the teachers and students decide to organise a workshop on creative activities.

The matter was discussed with the principal and Co-ordinator, IQAC of the college. The Principal advised to organise the workshop in association with Research, Innovations and Extension Cell at the adopted village “Phulani Gaon” on 24th December 2021. Accordingly, the Department of Economics has decided to organise that workshop at “Phulani Gaon” and taken permission from the President of the Village Development Committee,” Phulani Gaon”.

About the Village:

The Village “Phualni Gaon” is 2 KM far away from the college and situated beside the N.H.39. The village is adopted by our college for the all round development. Many awareness and cleanliness programmes like cleanliness of the village road, drainage, sanitation, drinking water, Health, COVID-19 were organised there by the college. The people of the village are very co-operative and they also feel proud to be the part of our college. They have actively participated in any programme organised by the college. There are more 200 people in the village; all are well-educated and rich in cultural activities.

Objectives of the Workshop:

The major objectives of the workshop are-

1. To teach the women the ways of self-employment.
2. To teach them to make decorative items with the waste materials.

3. To empower the women through the workshop.

Materials Used:

The students of our Department have brought materials like fevicol, glue gun, art papers, colour bottles, glitters, scissors, socks, bindi, ribbon, dish etc for the purpose of making the decorative items in the workshop.

Explanation of Workshop:

The organising committee has reached the venue of the workshop at 10:30 AM and the girls and women of the village have already reached the venue. At the beginning of the workshop, the introductory speech was given by Nava Kamal Borah, convenor of Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAc, Marangi Mahabidyalaya. Sjt. Norendra Nath Dutta, the eldest and prominent person of the village was felicitated with a Phulam Gamucha by the students of the Department. He inaugurated the workshop with an encouraging speech which would encourage the students and the participants of the workshop and he also wished and appreciated the Department of Economics for organising such type of workshop outside the college which helps our students, girls and women of the village to reflect their creative mind and reuse of the waste materials in decorative items.

The objectives of the workshop was given by Mrs. Dipty Tamuly, HoD, Department of Economics and she welcome all the participants to join such programmes which would help them in developing their personality. She also requested all the participants to co-operate our students for successful and effective completion of the workshop.

At 11:30AM the workshop was started and our student Miss Anuradha Bora has made flowers from coloured paper and the women and the girls of the village have learnt the process of making flowers easily. They have shown their interest towards the workshop and happily trying to make other items. After that, Miss Janmoni Sharma has made decorative items like flowers, trees using waste materials like nutshell, papers etc. Another student Miss Porobita Borah has made beautiful toys using socks, ribbon and bindi. The toys are seen very beautiful and she has made them easily in a very Short period of time.

The participants were seen very excited by involving themselves in the workshop.

The Village Development Committee of the village has arranged a tea party both for the organising committee and the participants in the workshop. We also brought some sweets for the workshop.

Outcome of the workshop:

The village girls and women have enjoyed the workshop happily. They have made many different items as shown by our students, they discussed among themselves to make such types of items in such a manner that they will be able to sell them in the fairs organised by different NGOs and SHGs for earning money.

Conclusion:

At the end of the workshop Assistant Professor, Mrs. Monikankona Bodo has given vote of thanks especially to the Village Development Committee for giving the opportunity to arrange the workshop at their village and to the oldest person Sjt. Norendra nath Dutta for this presence at workshop and his valuable speech. She has also been thankful to the women and the girls of the village for their active participation and encouragement at the workshop. The workshop was ended at 2PM with lots of positives support from the participants and the people of the village.

CULTURAL PROGRAMME
AT
ADOPTED VILLAGE PHULANIBARI GAON

Organised by

Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAC

Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree)

Date: 12th June 2019

Venue: Phulanibari Gaon Namghar (Adopted Village)

Introduction:

Cultural programmes play a significant role in our social life. By taking part in such programmes people come to know about the rich culture and traditions being followed which also develop their interpersonal skills. It is the programme for cultural education, cultural facilities and sustained support.

Culture is practice of people in different field of work or area of residence, which are conveyed through organisation of activity at larger level including number of people. Cultural programmes intend to bring together people of various communities to unite them which can be organised at institution level and society level.

On the basis of staff meeting held on 6th June 2019, today on 12th June 2019, a cultural programme along with the various discussions on promoting the adopted village Phulanibari Gaon is held at the Namghar of Phulanibari Gaon. The Programme is organised by Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAC, Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) and the programme presided over by a retired teacher Mr. Norendra Nath Dutta.

The Chairperson of the meeting has welcomed the college to their village and as a founder member of the college he has praised the college administration for selecting that village for adoption.

Objectives:

The main objectives of this cultural programme are-

1. To unite the village and the college and to bring them together.
2. To promote quality and artistic life of the people.
3. To pay particular intension to the right of children and young people to culture.
4. To encourage them to participate in the cultural programmes .

Explanation of the Programme

The Programme is inaugurated by the Co-ordinator of the college Mr. Yugal Jyoti Borah and he says that culture as a part of social life we are following various types of cultural activities in our society. Culture helps in uplifting our society and creates unity among the human beings.

After the inaugural speech one of the senior citizen of the village named Mr. Nagen Borah has sung a Bargeet written Srimanta Sankar Dev and the song has created a heavenly environment at the Namghar.

The women of the village have performed Dihanam (Assamese Folk Song) and it is seen that they happy and expert in their activities.

All of them are equally participated in the programme. No gender inequality is seen there.

The students of the college have performed many cultural activities there. One of our faculty Mrs. Pallabi Saikia has also sung a Bargeet nicely.

During the Programme the villagers offer tea and snacks to the participants of the programme. After the programme, a discussion on future projection has been held in the programme.

One of the youth of the village Mr. Sujit Borah offer a valuable speech for the development of the village and how the college will help in this development process.

Findings:

1. The programme has positive impact on both the college and the village equally.
2. The people of the village agree to participate in any activity organised by the college at the village.
3. After the programme the students of the college are anxious to participate in any work or programme which will be organised there.
4. The village women are very simple in nature and they are readily agree to empower themselves with the help of the activities that will be done by the college in the village.

Conclusion:

At the end of the programme, the Convenor of Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, Mr. Nava Kamal Borah has delivered vote of thanks to all the participants of the meeting. He also delivers special vote of thanks to the village women for their active participation and service made by them in the programme.

A Report
On
One Week Educational Guidance Programme
To
The Teachers and Students
Of
Phuloni Bari L.P.School

Submitted by

Department of Sociology,
Marangi Mahavidyalaya

Introduction:

Educational guidance is a process of assisting the students to reach optimum educational development. It is a sort of guidance that is only rendered to the student community. It helps them to understand their own rights and helps them to understand how education can help to know their ability, to know their surroundings and to know how create themselves to effective citizen.

By taking into consideration about this view, the authority of Marangi Mahavidyalaya has decided to organize educational guidance programme at the nearby educational institutions. This one-week Educational Guidance Programme to the Teachers and Students are done at Phuloni Bari L.P. School from 15th to 23rd June, 2022.

Objectives:

The main objectives of this programme are-

1. To direct, pointout and show the proper path of student's life.
2. To provide some helps or assistance to the students for developing themselves to the desired direction.
3. To assist the students in getting information about further education.
4. To help the students to adjust to school, its rules and regulations and the social life connected to it.
5. To assist them in selecting hobbies.

Explanation:

The programme is guided by the department of Sociology, Marangi Mahavidyalaya aiming to guide both the teachers and the students of the school about various academic and social activities.

So, the teachers of the department who guided the school, suggested the Headmaster to do something new for the school. The Headmaster of the school was suggested to improve their school library and was asked to increase the number of books in the library.

The teachers of the school were also suggested to keep notice in regular attendance of the students in stipulated time as mentioned in class routine. Except it, the students of the school were also teach some lessons and asked to write some lines from their text books. Our team took some oral test on General Knowledge of the students of the school.

In the last day (23rd June), a book donation was done in the school. The teachers and the students of the school participated in this programme. The programme was finished on that very that after taking a written test among the students of the school.

A tree plantation programme was also held at the last day of the programme. Both the students and the teachers along with the faculty members of the programme have planted sapling at the school campus.

Findings:

This one week educational guidance programme helps the students to overcome difficulties in learning some subjects and to make them fit for future programme in educational carrier, It also assiststudents for developing positive attitude towards study and motivating them for the same aiming at better learning.

Conclusion:

At the end of the programme the Head Master of the School has offered vote of thanks to the college along with the Department of Sociology for their esteem role which is played in the school.
