Introduction:

The N.S.S. Day is celebrated in Marangi Mahavidyalaya (Degree) and it has been organised by the NSS Unit of the College. The university Grant Commission (UGC) led by S. Radhakrishnan, advocated the implementation of voluntary national service in educational institutions. The Govt. has stressed the need for Indian students to perform social and labour duty for a year in 1952. Our college has decided to organise NSS Day which would be supervised by the NSS Unit of the college on 24th September.

Objectives:

The main objectives of the programme are –

1. To inform the students about significance of the NSS Day.
2. To inform the students about the various activities performed by NSS Unit.
3. To inform them the rules and regulations of NSS.

Explanation:

The programme has been inaugurated by the principal of the college and in his valuable speech he has told the students all about the programme and he has welcome all of them to the NSS Unit of the college. He has also praised the NSS Unit of the college for organising the programme.

The Programme officer Mr. Jayanta Borah, NSS Unit of the college has elaborately explained the history and significance of the Day. Education through service is the purpose of the NSS. The ideological of the NSS is inspired by the ideals of M.K. Gandhi.

Mr. Yugal Jyoti Borah and Mrs. Mamoni Mahanta have also briefly talked about the development of the personality and character of the student youth through voluntary community service.

Mr. Mohan Boruah has talked about the motto of the NSS "Not Me But You", the essence of democratic living and uphold the need for self-less service. NSS helps the students development and appreciation to other person's point of view and also show consideration towards other beings.

The celebration has succeeded in the following ways-

1. The programme has been successful in motivating the students towards the motto Not Me But You.
2. They have known the various activities performed by NSS and readily agreed to join as NSS voluntary in the college.
3. The students have also eager to participate in any camp or activity organised by the NSS Unit of the College.

Conclusion:

The programme has been successful one in motivating the students towards the activities which are performed by the NSS. At the end of the meeting The Programme Officer Mr. Jayanta Borah has delivered vote of thanks to the students for their participation in the programme.

Report of the Field Survey on 'Socio-Economic conditions of the population of Seujpur village, No.2 Doigrung, Golaghat'

INTRODUCTION:

A field survey is an investigation, generally a descriptive study done in the field, usually with participants for primary data collection drawn from the general population of a community. Field survey allows researchers to better monitor and evaluate the impact of field experiments.

A field survey on Socio-Economic conditions of the population of Seujpur village, No.2 Doigrung, Golaghat has been organized by the Department of Economics, Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) on 19th September, 2019.

OBJECTIVES:

The field survey has the following objectives-

1. To engage students in the field survey for making them familiar with the process of field survey
2. To collect various data about that local area, its past and present and various socio-economic problems.
3. To know about the educational status of the population of that particular village.
4. To understand the economic background of the village and the families.
5. To gather information about the health status of the population of the village.
6. To know about the women empowerment of the village.

EXPLANATION:

As per decision made earlier, the faculty members and students of the Department of Economics have started their journey at 10.30 a.m. and reached at the destination at 10.40 a.m. Since the village is very near to the college, so the students have decided to go to the village on foot.

21/9/19
Head
Department of Economics
Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree)

All the students have been divided into groups consisting of 2 members each group. They have been given the questionnaires to ask questions to the respondents of the village.

The questionnaire includes different types of questions regarding the matter of personal details, educational status, monthly income, housing conditions, drinking water facilities, medical facility, banking habits etc.

The students have asked the respondents various questions, according to the questionnaire, very politely and smartly to collect the data for their survey.

OUTCOMES:

1. The field survey enables students to know the way or methodology of research.
2. It will help the students to prepare data based research or seminar papers.
3. It helps in developing the team spirit among the students.
4. The students will be able to know the socio-economic conditions of the people of the village.
5. The students have able to collect information very carefully and smartly.

CONCLUSION:

All the students have completed their survey approximately at 2 pm and returned to college. The faculty members of the department of Economics have provided snacks and cold drinks to the participants of the survey and thanked them for their active participation and successful completion of the survey. In fact, it has been a quality field survey which stimulates new learning and increases positive attitude towards research work.

Introduction

A field study is a general method for collecting data about users, users needs, and product requirements that involves observation and interviewing. Thus, one can acquire knowledge and solve problems by conducting field studies in different places. Viewing this, the department of Sociology, Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) decided to conduct a field study with the students of the department at Aruna Bar Ali Village, Kakilamukh.

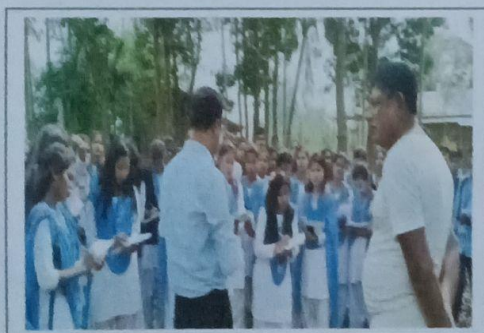

Objectives of the study

1. For gathering Knowledge in field research
2. To provide knowledge about community research

About the process of the Study

After a discussion between the students and the teachers of the department we decided to conduct a field study at Kakilamukh, Jorhat on 14th February, 2020. For conducting this study we submitted an application addressing to the principal of the college for permission. The principal of the college was agreeing with us and permission is accepted. So, we decided to conduct the study at Aruna Bor Ali Gaon, Kokilamukh, Jorhat. The Aruna Bor Ali Gaon is situated 12 kilometers distance from jorhat town. Majority of the village is Mishing. Most of the people of the village by occupation are cultivators and fishermen and so, we decided to study on their Socio-economic life. At first the teachers and the students approached the village headman and described the purpose of the visit in that village. The headman of the village then assured the students and the teachers to help in data collection from the village. The students then started house to house data collection with the help of the headman.

During data collection, the students (interviewer) identified the village as socio-economically significant. So, after completion of data collection, the students are asked to prepare a field report on the topic 'Socio-economic Life of the Mishing Community: A Study in Aruna Bor Ali Village of Kokilamukh.'

A REPORT ON
Cleanliness Programme

Date: 26th February 2020

Organised by

NSS Unit

In Association with

Research, Innovations and Extension Cell, IQAC.

Marangimahabidyalya (Degree)

Venue: Phulani Bari Gaon (Adopted Village)

P.O. Lettekujan,

Dist: Golaghat, Assam

PRINCIPAL, Marangimahabidyalya

Introduction:

On the basis of the staff meeting held at Marangi Mahavidyalaya (Degree) it is decided to organise a cleanliness programme at our adopted village "Phulonibari Gaon". The programme is solely organised by NSS Unit Marangi Mahabidyalaya (Degree) in association with Research, Innovations and Extension cell, IQAC on 26th February 2020. On that particular day total participants 46 (students and teachers) have reached the village with the following three objectives.

Objective:

The main objectives of the programme are-

1. To create awareness among the village people regarding cleanliness and its benefits.
2. To involve the students in such activities for creating a clean environment.
3. To eliminate open defecation and improve solid waste management.

Explanation:

After reaching the village, the college team have discussed the matter with the village people and aware them about the programme and started the work from the entrance of the village. The students have carried brooms, baskets, dustbins, hoe, dao etc to clean the roadsides of the village.

The participants have done their duty with joy and delight. They have cleaned the campus of Phulanibari LP School which is situated at the village. They have taught the students to throw the wastage in proper places and to use the water in proper ways and not destroy water and plants and to plant sapling in the school campus.

28/2/20

Phulonibari Gaon
Marangi Mahavidyalaya

The participants of the programme have also cleaned the campus of the Village Namghor and asked the village people to use dustbin beside the Namghor.

The participants have cleaned the village road to the last point, they have also cleaned the drains beside the village road and asked the village people to keep the drains clean and told them how the dirty drains help in spreading various diseases. They have cleaned the sides of the public pond.

During the programme the participants have been given packet lunch by the village

Outcomes

1. This programme improves the habit of cleanliness among the villagers because they agree to keep the village clean.
2. The students have learned the theme of the programme and they told that they will teach their neighbours about cleanliness.
3. The villagers have learnt more about sanitation, cleanliness and healthy environment.

4. The villagers have also learned to open defecation and agree to improve solid waste management.

Conclusion:

The cleanliness programme helps both the team and the village which have helped them in learning to be cleaned in day to day life. The participants have felt much happy by involving themselves in such type of work. They have told that team work never make them tire. During the afternoon at about 3pm the programme has been ended. The team has returned the college with a happy and delight mood.

Introduction:

On 28th March 2020, an awareness Programme on corona virus (COVID-19) has been done by the teaching and non-staff of the college at the nearby adopted village Phulanibari Gaon. The staff have been divided into many groups consisting of 2 or 3 members and made door to door visit to inform the households how to save themselves from the attack of worldwide pandemic COVID -19.

Objectives :

1. To aware the village people about COVID-19.
2. To inform them how to save themselves from the attack of COVID-19.

Explanation:

The groups have distributed posters on awareness against, COVID-19 and asked them to use mask, handwash, sanitizer, boiled water, to keep social distance and avoid gather. They have told the villagers that these will help them in keeping themselves from the attack of the virus.

During that particular day, each group has distributed awareness posters to the households and explained everything briefly to them.

A group of workers have been working in that village so they have been taught all the ways to fight against COVID-19.

Outcomes:

The outcomes of the programme are-

1. The village people have felt that this programme will be helpful for them to secure themselves from the attack of the COVID-19.
2. They have agreed to stop the coming of guest or strangers to the village.
3. The workers have told that they will work only in secure and satisfactory situation, otherwise they will avoid work.

Conclusion:

The programme has taken more than four hours of the day. The news reporter has reached the village and they have thanked the College for arranging such awareness programme during that crucial time. The village people have shown their gratefulness to the college for their helps and the programme which have been done in their village.
